

A still life composition featuring fresh herbs, a mortar and pestle, and a glass bottle of oil on a dark stone surface. The central focus is a wooden mortar filled with various green herbs, including basil, thyme, and rosemary. A wooden pestle rests inside the mortar. To the right, a glass bottle with a wooden stopper contains a golden liquid, likely olive oil. In the foreground, a small wooden bowl is filled with a mix of black, white, and red peppercorns. The background is a dark, textured stone surface. The text "LET'S PLANT AND STARTS WITH HERBS" is overlaid in white, serif font, and the date "19TH OCTOBER 2023" is overlaid in a white box at the bottom.

There were 8 staff and 2 students from FBF had visited the school from 7.45am to 11.45am to educate the students about the importance of nature and how to protect nature.

This is done by conducting talks and briefing on gardening, games to identify the herbs planted and ways to reduce disruption and damage to the natural world.

The staff and students are delighted that the school is having a herbs garden and they have learned how to plant herbs and the advantages of each herbs.
